

---

CALLED UNEXPECTEDLY

---

Edmond Lynham of Bountiful Dies at His Home and is Buried in Ogden Beside His Wife.

---

Edmond Lynham died very unexpectedly at his home in Bountiful, Wednesday evening of general debility. He had been ailing for about three weeks, but was able to walk about.

Returning from a walk in the garden, he sank on the porch as if fatigued. He was assisted into the house when the end came a few minutes afterward without scarcely a struggle.

Deceased was born in Pollet, Summersetshire, England, and would have been eighty years old the 11th of next May.

He married Jane Watts of Cardiff, Glemmorganshire, England, in 1852. Seven children were born to them, five of whom survive him.

The remains were taken to Ogden for burial on Thursday and were laid to rest beside his wife, who had preceded him to the great beyond by many years. Quite a number went to the cemetery, and the floral offerings were beautiful.